Welcome to Reykjavik

Unlike some major European cities whose size can be intimidating, Reykjavik has a small-scale urban centre that attendees find easy to navigate. The hassle-free city centre is safe, clean and packed with restaurants, shopping, culture and vibrant nightlife. Visiting delegates enjoy interacting with the friendly Icelanders who speak English as their second language and often other Scandinavian and European languages. The conference will be held in the stylish Hilton Reykjavik Nordica hotel with all of Reykjavik's main attractions just minutes away.
